News of Washington Ward

Washington Ward Bureau,
The Times-Dispatch,
1192 Hull Street.

Manchester is Manchester no longer. The ancient city closed its eyes last night as of yore, but slept, and will sleep forever, as a ward of Richmond. From early dawn yesterday, when foot-steps first trampled the streets, until nightfall, this good community was as with the throbs of the most momentous question which ever dawned in its midst. When Judge Frank P. Christian affixed his signature to the essential order declaring Manchester a part of Richmond, the Corporation Court room was jammed with representative citizens from here and across the river. All realized its significance, yet all foresaw in the near future a brighter horizon. From the moment the enthusiastic delegation left the courthouse yesterday afternoon for the City Hall until late at night the day's events have been discussed in all corners of the Southside and with approbation and optimism.

Seriously Hurt.
Earl Mann, about nineteen years of age, son of M. C. Mann, real estate dealer, with A. L. Adamson, 1911 Hull Street, was seriously hurt late yesterday evening in the rear of W. J. Carter's stable, as the result of a horse becoming unmanageable. An impatient driver was the guilty one. Young Mann, who lives in Woodland Heights, had just returned from a drive in Mr. Carter's trap. While about to unhitch the horse, the dog, by barking and snapping, frightened the horse. The animal bolted up an embankment, with the youth hanging on. Before he could save himself Mann received a nasty blow upon the eye. He was taken into the rear of Carter's drug store and had his injuries bandaged. He suffered much pain, but bore it stoically. Mr. Mann works in the office of his father.

Ambulance Officers.
Much excitement was caused last night when the Richmond ambulance sped through Hull Street at local speed. The driver was said to have been a drunken man on upper Hull Street. The motor returned at a faster clip, leaving a cloud of dust behind it.

A Richmond policeman patrolled the streets of the Southside last night. The old Manchester officers have now the caps of Richmond policemen.

Death of Mr. Nunnally.
Sidney C. Nunnally, about sixty years old, a popular citizen of this community, was found dead about 8 o'clock yesterday morning in the yard of his home, 216 Hull Street, Swansboro. Coroner J. G. Loving was summoned, but considered an inquest unnecessary. The death was probably occasioned by heart disease.

He is survived by three daughters—Misses Mamie and Ruby Nunnally and Mrs. T. W. Scott; also two sons—D. E. and N. R. Nunnally.

He was a member of Liberty Council No. 1, A. L. M. Progress, have been members of Liberty, Indiana Tribe of Red Men and West End Methodist Church.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from West End Church.

PENSION CHECKS NOW BEING MAILED

About $65,000 Sent Out to Cover Unpaid Claims for Year 1909.

SCHOOL BOOK BIDS CLOSED

Board Will Adopt List Wednesday—Schubert to Arrange Mineral Display.

Unpaid Virginia pensioners of 1909 will receive their checks within a day or two. Pension Clerk Scott's office is busy mailing more than 2,000 of these useful slips of paper. The aggregate is about $65,000, the average being something more than $29 each.

Several State papers, misunderstanding the situation, have wondered why these claims were not paid last year. There is a special fund for pensions, raised by a separate tax. The Legislature of 1908 added a number of eligibles to the pension lists, and when all the approved applications came in it was found that the revenue from the pension fund would not be sufficient to pay all claims. The pensions were paid until the fund was exhausted, the unpaid amounts reaching the sum of $65,000.

Appropriation Made.
The State Auditor was authorized to use the general or any other fund to make up this deficiency, and consequently was unable to pay the claims. The only relief was in legislative action. Early in the session of the General Assembly, which passed the bill to create the pension fund, the general fund an amount sufficient to cover the deficiency. Messrs. Paul McKee, of Cumberland, and L. D. Yarrall, of Greensboro, finally became joint patrons of a bill making the necessary appropriation, which passed both houses and became a law. Later the amount was taken care of in the general appropriation act.

Many of the Democratic candidates for the Legislature, in the campaign last summer, promised to use their efforts to secure the payment of the delinquent pensions, and it was regarded by a number of the members as being the nature of a party pledge.

A part of the regular pension claims of 1910 will be paid next month.

MR. OWEN CELEBRATES

Governor's Secretary Takes Part in Washington Ward Jubilee.
There was little doing at the Governor's office yesterday. Secretary Ben P. Owen wasn't there. At the request of an immense number of the citizens of the Commonwealth, he had decided to officially attend the ceremonies incident to laying the cornerstone of Washington Ward.

Secretary Owen arrived at the Capitol at 9 o'clock. At 9:01 he had secured a leave of absence. While the parade wasn't due for six hours, it was deemed desirable that he should have ample time for preparation, so he went across the free bridge to prepare.

All Mr. Owen's arrangements having been perfected, he joined the caravan of automobiles. As the representative of the majesty of a sovereign State, he solemnly took his last official drink of Manchester city water, mounted a car and helped deliver the keys of the city, near which he had lived for sixty-eight years, to the Mayor of the greater city.

EXCRUCIATING SKIN TORMENT

Irritation Almost Drove Him Mad—Eyes So Swollen Could Scarcely See—Skin Specialist Said It Was Psoriasis—Cured by Cuticura.

SO PLEASED WITH CURE ANXIOUS TO TELL OTHERS

"I was completely cured of a skin disease by the use of the Cuticura Remedies after doctor had failed. The complaint first attacked me in 1906, my hands and arms right to the elbows breaking out in large blisters, some an inch across. I need not tell any sufferer how much distressing skin complaints what I went through. The irritation almost drove me mad. I became an outcast. I was a patient of a London hospital. I received little benefit, and after a fortnight's attendance I was seen by a skin specialist, who said my disease was psoriasis. The irritation was not allayed at all. I persevered with the treatment and continued to attend the hospital for two months but I was far from cured."

"Later the disease took a more serious form, affecting my neck and face as well as my hands and arms. My neck was covered and sometimes my eyes were so badly swollen that I could scarcely see. Irritation is too mild a word to describe my suffering; it was excruciating agony. I was sent to a doctor who gave me some ointment, but it did me no good and in the end I lost my job. A friend in London sent me some Cuticura Soap which softened my hands, made them feel fresh and more comfortable. I obtained some Cuticura Remedies and Cuticura Ointment and was especially pleased with the ointment which immediately allayed the irritation and caused the sores to heal steadily and surely. In three weeks I was completely cured and there has been no return of the complaint. I am so pleased with my cure that I am anxious to tell others about it. Arthur Duncanson, Litchard Hill, Bridgton, South Wales, Jan. 10, 1909."

Lynchburg, Va., April 15.—Thursday night, at 10 o'clock at the paragon of the College Hill Baptist Church, Miss Lucy C. Hawkins, daughter of Mr. S. S. Hawkins, was married to Robert D. Hill. The minister was Rev. W. A. Ayers.

the entire supply and others relate to only a part.

The bids will be given consideration at the meeting of the State board to be held Wednesday night. An important question will be the consideration of the differing prices on furnishing books under the single and the multiple system. To secure adoption of books means much to many publishing firms.

WILL ARRANGE DISPLAY

Railroad Allows Its Expert to Install Mineral Exhibit at Library.

Much to the pleasure of Governor Mann and of Captain W. W. Baker, of Chesterfield, who has been in charge of the transportation of the State's mineral exhibit at Jamestown to Richmond, the Norfolk and Western Railway has given the services of E. A. Schubert, a recognized expert, to arrange the display. Mr. Schubert is the traveling agent for the agricultural and industrial department of the railway.

It is the intention to make this exhibit one of the most creditable and symmetrical to be found anywhere. The work will probably consume five or six months, and to Mr. Schubert will devote a large part of his time. He called on the Governor yesterday and inspected the exhibit room in the new library annex. With the latter he was highly pleased and declared his belief that the display could be made attractive there.

Now Being Loaded.

Mr. Schubert will go to Norfolk tomorrow night to gather up the odds and ends of the collection. The material is all packed up and is now being loaded on cars under the direction of Captain Baker. It will reach Richmond within a few days.

It is planned that the display is to be placed at the University of Virginia, the president of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, the superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute, and Colonel A. M. Bowman, of Salem.

State geologist Thomas L. Watson, of Charlottesville, will probably be the Governor about this matter to-day, together with Captain Baker.

STATUS OF DEBT CASE

Last Day for Filing Exceptions to Report of Special Master.

To-day the States of Virginia and West Virginia will have their last opportunity to file exceptions with the clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States in Washington to the report of Special Master Charles E. Littlefield. It is regarded as probable that West Virginia will file exceptions to file, in view of the fact that Virginia by long odds got the best of the report. The Virginia attorneys have not divulged their plans in this respect.

Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams is on the ground to watch any move that might be made in Washington to-day.

WILL BUILD SCHOOLHOUSE

Citizens of Arvonian Respond Liberally at Public Meeting.

As a result of a public meeting of citizens held Thursday night at Arvonian, Buckingham county, it has been decided to erect a $10,000 schoolhouse there. About $2,000 of this will be raised by the citizens, the remainder coming from the State. Although no preparation had been made for a canvass at the meeting, about $1,000 was pledged on the spot, and a committee was appointed to raise the remainder. A high school feature will be added to the new building, and C. C. Stearns, secretary of the State Board of Education, District School Superintendent Plummer F. Jones and Mr. Edwards, of Arvonian, were among the speakers. A fine spirit was manifested for modern educational methods.

May Camp at Gettysburg.

Although nothing has been definitely decided, there is a feeling among the Virginia troops that at least two of the infantry regiments, if not the entire brigade, will participate in a summer encampment at Gettysburg, in company with regular United States regiments and the militia of other States. It is understood that a good deal of money is in the State's military fund available for this purpose. Nothing, however, has been announced from the office of the Adjutant-General.

Packing Concern Chartered.

The State Corporation Commission yesterday issued a charter to Cuddey Brothers Company, of Virginia, Incorporated. The principal office of the State corporation is at the packing concern is to be in Richmond. The incorporators are Patrick Cuddey, president, Milwaukee, Wis.; W. H. Hobday, vice-president and treasurer, Milwaukee, Wis.; H. P. Taylor, secretary and treasurer, Richmond. The maximum capital stock is $5,000 and the minimum $1,000.

Great Damage by Forest Fires.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bristol, Va., April 15.—Reports received here to-night tell of the most damaging forest fires in the history of the Appalachian region. A vast area has been burned over in the region embracing Johnson county, Tennessee, Ashe county, North Carolina, and Grayson county, Virginia. The fire line is estimated to have been 100 miles in length and the loss, which amounts to many thousands of dollars, cannot be accurately estimated. Various lumber operations, large quantities of lumber and logs, and many camps and commissaries have been destroyed.

The Faulkner Lumber Company, operating in Grayson county, Va., lost a commissary, a large quantity of lumber, and a large quantity of lumber, while much of the company's standing timber was damaged.

The barns and houses of the Tennessee Lumber Manufacturing Company, at Sutherland, Tenn., were in part burned.

Aside from the loss to lumber companies, a number of homes were destroyed in Shady Valley and at other points along the mountain range. With a brisk wind blowing, residents of Shady Valley felt that the fire swept down upon them like an ocean wave, compelling them to flee to points of safety while their homes were being burned. Among those whose homes were destroyed in Shady Valley were J. M. Blackburn, Robert Garland and J. M. Brown. The fire, which later losing three valuable residences. The showers of the last three days are all that prevented a more general spread of the flames.

CITY COMMITTEE ADMITS NEW WARD

Five Democrats From Southside Received by Unanimous Vote.

READY NOW FOR PRIMARY

Madison Ward Disagreement Settled by Dropping Palmore. Election Officers.

By a unanimous rising vote, the City Democratic Committee last night elected to membership five Democrats named by the City Committee of Manchester to represent Washington Ward. It being impossible for that ward to nominate candidates for the Board of Aldermen and City Council in next Thursday's primary, the Washington Ward delegation will meet later and suggest to the City Committee some method of naming a list of candidates.

Final preparations were made at last night's meeting for the primary. A full list of election officers and polling places was named upon recommendation of the different ward delegations. A dispute over officers in the Second Precinct of Madison Ward was averted by mutual concessions. All other ward superintendents' recommendations were adopted without question.

The Madison Ward situation was an interesting one. The superintendent presented his list, explaining that he had promised the men that he would recommend them. Three members from that ward, constituting a majority of the delegation, presented a list which differed in several respects.

Agreement Reached.
Analysis of the situation, however, showed that the real dispute was over one man only—E. R. Palmore, whom the superintendent wanted selected as clerk at the Second Precinct. The majority complained that Mr. Palmore had expressed an opinion in favor of or against one or more of the candidates.

Several members said they did not think this was a sufficient basis for disqualification. The superintendent finally withdrew Mr. Palmore's name, after the other members had agreed to the rest of his list.

A horse and buggy was authorized on primary election day for the use of each ward delegation, and $1 was appropriated to pay for meals for the officers.

It was decided to have maps placed in the hands of each member of the committee, showing the precinct lines of the city.

An official communication was received from the City Democratic Committee of Manchester setting forth the impending dissolution of that body. The names of five men were suggested for membership in the Richmond committee as representatives from Washington Ward.

Loyal to Richmond.
Being invited to address the committee, former City Chairman Willis C. Pulliam, of Manchester, who headed the delegation, spoke for the first time to his fellow-citizens of the city of Richmond. He said that all of the five men had been elected in the Manchester primary of last summer by the people. The people of Washington Ward, he said, and the members of this delegation were anxious to show that they would be loyal citizens of Greater Richmond.

The following were then unanimously elected members of the Richmond Democratic Committee from Washington Ward: J. L. Redford, R. P. Shiplett, C. B. Fowkes, James A. Baber, W. C. Pulliam.

This delegation met and elected W. C. Pulliam as ward superintendent and J. L. Redford as assistant superintendent.

The committee decided to meet on the night after the election to hear the returns, and adjourned until that time.

Notice was given that all election officials may secure poll books, ballots and stationery at the office of Secretary W. G. Duke, 3 Governor Street, from 4 to 6 o'clock on Wednesday. Booths and ballot boxes are to be gotten from the basement of the City Hall from 10 to 3 o'clock on the same day.
